

Wearing away the 'establishment' walls

(EDITOR'S NOTE: John Wood, a San Diego resident for 10 years, is a free-lance journalist and consultant on the media, minority relations and community problems. He will be writing a broad, interpretive series of articles on San Diego's urban problems.)

By JOHN WOOD
Exclusive to the Sentinel

There's a good lesson in participative democracy going on in the City Council conference chambers every other Friday.

There you can see the ebb and flow of the wishes of some of the people washing up against the walls of the "establishment"... and, in a relatively short time, you can see how much the walls wear away.

Every other week members of the minority community and representatives of the San Diego "establishment" file into the council's conference chambers on the 12th floor of our new Community Concourse to do verbal battle over the state of the city. It has become known as THE community dialogues.

If the true power structure of the city is not there, it is certainly represented by individuals who can mouth viewpoints, answer questions, respond to criticism and carry messages back. And, if the true leaders of the black and brown communities aren't always in attendance, there is certainly no lack of people who can rap on what's wrong with this city in motion.

Sometimes the speakers are articulate and learned. Other times they are learned in the ways of life but less than articulate. Then there are those who are articulate but simply not with it.

Usually, though, in both cases there is enough leadership to get a real rap session going.

Conspicuously absent at most: the mayor, councilmen, supervisors, the sheriff, the chief of police. Many of the "working leaders" of the white establishment are there, but the leadership of this city as elected and envisioned by most of its citizens is absent.

The dialogues perk along, as they have for nearly two years, under the leadership of Carrol W. Waymon, the able director of the Citizens' Interracial Committee.

The combatants, usually line up this way: the Welfare Department, city schools, former City Attorney Ed Butler, District Attorney Don Keller, the churches, the city administration (in various forms), the police department, CORE, the Urban League, NAACP, the CIO, Community Action Councils and a sprinkling of students and teachers. I hesitate to assign "sides" to some of those because, seemingly, they will wear white hats at one meeting and black hats at the next. But when the issue is out on the table, the lines are clearly drawn and most of the participants don't mince words.

At a recent meeting, just before the Christmas break, the subject was education—more specifically, counseling—and two representatives of the city school system, department superintendent George Hall and Jack Stone, were on the firing line.

The blacks, browns and activist whites—at this dialogue and in the community at large—are kicking, shoving and pushing to get the city schools moving faster to make relevant changes in curriculum and counseling.

In the dialogue it's a fairly simple matter, of charge and defend, thrust and parry, complaint and smoothing over. In this dialogue it boiled down to this: in the high schools and many of the junior highs there is discontent with counseling, curriculum and education in general. This sweeps across the ages and the educational level. The response from the school administration so far has been trite or much too slow.

Black and brown students are organizing and are headed for demands, confrontation, change. On the other side of the school administrator, there are pressure groups leaning on teachers and administrators to keep a lid on things. When the youth power structure, largely black and brown, gets organized, "It's gonna hit the fan."

This single fact—that things are going to get worse before they get better—wound its way through this particular session as it has through others. The city school people say they want to change, are trying to change—but the rate of change, to those who want it, seems pitifully slow.

And if this seems familiar, it is meant to. For this is the story of racial dialogue all over this country. It's true in education. It's true in local government, police relations, employment, housing. It's true in our political system.

There is a constant demand for change. There's the need to communicate while you're changing and the lurking uncertainty of what will happen if the communication breaks down or the change doesn't come fast enough.

That's why these two and a half hours every other Friday offer this country and this democracy under a microscope. You can see an angry black man in a face-to-face encounter with the city attorney. You can hear a hostile Mexican-American lash out at a police officer.

You can get a taste of the frustration and bitterness that exists in this community—and in this nation. And you can see how your institutions react.

You can even get into the action.

Can Bay pay for itself? City wants to know, too

By DAVID LEWIS
Sentinel City Editor

Official City Council policy may say it should be so, but any hope of making Mission Bay Park revenues meet or exceed bay expenses seems remote—at least for the near future.

Nine paragraphs down in a document labeled "Mission Bay Park Policies" is the sentence: "Every effort shall be made to provide sufficient revenue from leases to cover the city's operating expenses for Mission Bay Park."

BUT IT IS THE SECOND paragraph of that same policy, one which places a 25 percent limit on the amount of land in the park which may be leased commercially, that makes balancing the budget a tough proposition.

Only three weeks ago Councilman Allen Hitch initiated a short-lived drive to do something to bring bay revenues in line with expenses. But once the facts were put before him Hitch decided to wait for a revised master plan for Mission Bay being prepared by William Pereira & Associates before making any further statements.

One thing Hitch was considering was a new limit for commercial leases, possibly 35 percent instead of the present 25. But after looking at the additional revenue that could be created, he said he wasn't sure that amount was worth the loss of public land.

THE COUNCILMAN SAID he thinks most San Diegans probably are happy leaving things the way they are now, even though any deficit in the park ends up coming from the city's general fund.

Hitch said publicity from Mission Bay Park and the value it has to the city in that way is probably worth the extra expense.

During the 1967-68 fiscal year, the last period for which complete figures are available, the difference between revenues and expenses was $321,615. The year before that the difference was $92,636, but the figure is deceptive.

Revenues hit $651,873 in 1966-67, but part of that amount came from back payments owed by some bay lessees. Another reason for the large difference between revenues and expenses in 1966-67 and 1967-68 is the $23.6 million recreation bond issue that voters approved in 1966.

ONCE THE INTEREST costs for the Mission Bay portion of those bonds were added to bay expenses, bond interest costs shot up from only $108,000 in 1966-67 to $295,360 in 1967-68. The bond interest figure for 1968-69, while lower than the last fiscal year, is still $239,260.

Even in 1980-81, for instance, bond interest costs will be $117,000, provided no new bond issues are approved in the interim.

Although revenue projections for the present fiscal year, which ends June 30, show an estimated $865,000 coming in, park expenditures for costs other than interest are spiraling upward as new areas of the bay are opened. San Diegans are undoubtedly happy to see the DeAnza Cove area and a long stretch along Interstate 5 landscaped and developed as a fully usable beach, but such projects add to Mission Bay's financial woes.

THOSE TWO PROJECTS, and landscaping done in Dana Basin near the new Dana Inn, have helped raise Mission Bay landscape maintenance costs to an estimated $825,000 in 1968-69, up from $640,000 the previous fiscal year. Also included in that figure are the cost of lifeguards, beach cleaning, and erosion control.

The latest available figures show that 358.8 of Mission Bay Park's 1,910.3 acres of land are presently leased, leaving 118.8 acres eligible for development under the City Council policy. That means that 25 percent of the possible commercial land still remains to be leased.

As the unleased land is developed, additional revenues should be generated. Should a deficit still remain, several options are open to city councilmen should they decide, like Hitch, that Mission Bay should pay its own way.

AMONG POSSIBILITIES are: increasing rates on existing commercial leases, eliminating the 25 percent limit on commercial leases and raising it until the bay can be self-sufficient, intensive development of remaining acreage, or discarding the theory that the bay must pay for itself.

Whether revenues and expenses will meet some time in the near future under the presently established guidelines hinges on many factors, chiefly on the recommendations of the Pereira report. For the time being, city officials aren't willing to comment until they've analyzed Pereira's financial findings.

According to one of them, Ben Hagar, the city's assistant property director, "There is just no way to tell now. It's an impossible prediction to make until the Pereira report is reviewed and a definite program of developments—what we want in the bay—is outlined."

Construction resumes on luxury apartments

Construction on an $8 million, 11-acre country club-apartment complex in Loma Portal resumed this week after a long delay caused by the heavy rains.

Reed Gustafson, production manager on the site of the Point Loma Tennis Club Ltd., said the first of 388 apartment units will be ready for occupancy within two months. The project, one of the largest and most costly of its type in the area, is being built by the Stanley C. Swartz Co. of San Diego.

The project, intended for use by young marrieds, singles and "mature couples," will include four tennis courts, a 4,000-square-foot L-shaped swimming pool, recreational facilities, a health center and space for 532 parked vehicles.

Architects for the project are the Thomas and Richardson Co. of Costa Mesa. Extensive landscaping is planned around the grounds, where putting greens will be placed for the use of club members.

Gustafson said the buildings are mostly in a Mediterranean style. They are located at the corner of Polack and Worden Streets.

Some neighbors across the street from the project have complained of the noise and dust created by the construction. Another resident said he was sorry to see the local frog pond area removed because the frogs croaking at night make a cheerful sound.

Women get PTA honors

Two Peninsula Women won top honors at the annual Ninth District PTA Founders Day luncheon this week.

Recognized by more than 1,500 PTA leaders from throughout San Diego were Mrs. Edward T. Hale, 3074 Poinsettia Dr., and Mrs. Elizabeth Morin, 3112 Macauley St.

Mrs. Hale was given a continuing service award by Mrs. Leo Ness, Ninth District president. The award is given to persons who have already earned the Honorary Life Membership Award.

Mrs. Hale, formerly president of the district, has also served as California State PTA president. She is presently an advisor to the district.

Mrs. Morin, who was given an honorary life membership, is past 80 years old.

She has aided San Diego youth by reading to youngsters at University Hospital, Hillcrest Receiving Home, and other hospitals. She also travels to Patton State Hospital each week to teach creative writing to persons there.

OFF TO SEE THE WIZARD

Chris Zozaya, 10, is the Scarecrow, Leslie Coolidge, 9, the Cowardly Lion and Susan Zozaya, 8, the Tin Woodman in "A Trip Through Fantasy Land," a 72nd birthday celebration of the national PTA, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Loma Portal Elementary School. The show will be prefaced by a 6 p.m. box supper and business meeting.

Quick on the draw and on the lecture

Rangers at the Cabrillo National Monument have to be sharpshooters, fast talkers and general jacks-of-all-work, according to Thomas Tucker, park superintendent.

Tucker said the Point Loma-based rangers are among the first in the state to be operating a park on the I & RM system (Interpretation and Resource Management).

Under the system an attractive female historian will double as an Annie Oakley.

ALTHOUGH THE CABRILLO Monument changed to the system in July, 1967, it was then, and still is, a pioneer in I & RM methods. With the system, says Tucker, rangers have to know how to give colorful talks on monument history at a moment's notice, how to enforce the law and how to protect the park from the people and the people from the park.

"Before the change we had two divisions of uniformed employees," said Tucker. "One was a protection division and consisted of uniformed employees who protected the area from the visitors and vice versa."

"The other division was interpretive. It had the primary responsibility of establishing relations with the visitor and giving the story of and explaining the meaning of the area."

UNDER THE NEW SYSTEM there is only one uniformed division and it is headed by a chief "who must be competent in both protection and interpretive aspects," according to Tucker.

The present chief is Ross R. Hopkins. Under him employees with a primary responsibility in "interpretation" may double in visitor protection or law enforcement as needed. Each person is interchangeable with the others.

Exceptions may be made for a "specialist," but Miss Paige Lawrence, the monument historian, likes to go out on the shooting range with everyone else when the time comes for it.

TUCKER SAYS THE MAJOR law enforcement problems include "preventing a major increase in refuse disposal on park grounds, discouraging the occasional hotrod specialists who ply their trade in the pedestrian areas, and impressing the visitor with the need for the protection of tide pool areas."

Tucker said the tide pools near the monument, full of starfish, abalone, and star slugs, "are among the last virgin ones under protection in California."

There are four permanent rangers serving at Cabrillo, including the I & RM chief. The staff is augmented by two temporary rangers during certain times of the year.

Tucker said the park must handle over one million visitors each year and the rangers know how to be prepared for anything, including drug abusers "turning on" in the park.

Cabrillo National Monument, being a "historical" park, as opposed to a "natural" park, concentrates on history rather than biological studies, according to Tucker. Tucker, who worked more than 20 years in Yosemite, says other parks are "gradually making the changeover" to the local I & RM system.

Drums beat for 'Design'

African drummers in Pacific Beach?

They'll be there, along with dancers and models with African fashions, as part of the Pacific Beach "Design for Understanding" program starting Monday. Registration for the series, the ninth held in San Diego County, is open to all residents of the North Shores area.

The seven-week series was developed by the Citizens' Interracial Committee in San Diego to help interested persons combat possible racist outlooks. The series is scheduled for the Pacific Beach Junior High School auditorium from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on consecutive Monday nights. Sponsors include the Sentinel and the Pacific Beach Town Council.

After an initial session designed to give participants a "frame of reference" for meetings to come, the sessions will focus in on a black power panel of Negro militants, problems in housing, education, employment, law enforcement, and communication experienced by minority persons, and difficulties experienced by Mexican-Americans in our society.

The black power panel will feature Chochezi, Chaka, Sukumo, and Kidumu—African names for representatives from the Black Conference, CORE, the US organization, and Community Involvement. Other sessions include a face-to-face meeting with black panelists at dialogue sessions and a final program outlining "What Can You Do? What You Can Do."

The registration form below may be returned to the Sentinel or interested persons may register at the first session Monday.

Monday Point Loma students returned to school with a clean slate, the start of a new semester. Report cards went home Friday, and with them, for many students, resolutions for the new semester. A new addition to this semester's "Around the Point" is Sue Thompson who will be taking the place of Nancy Stevenson who graduated Friday.

The "fighting Pointers" scored another victory in basketball last Friday night against Mission Bay. In an exciting game, the Pointers pulled ahead in the second half, with Scott Berndes playing an excellent game.

Friday night "Sandi and the Classics" were at their best when they played at Mesa College. Seen at the dance were Carol De Ross, Lennie Levi, Shannon Zeluff, and Jenny Ekern.

Sunday afternoon South
Mission Beach was the site of a love-in. Music was provided by local bands, including the "Brain Police" and "Framework." Seen there were Shelley Lutes and her brother, alumni Steve Lutes.

Frontier Lanes was honored with the presence of seven great bowlers Friday night.
They were: Cindy Correia,
Darlene Maughn, Margi
Wright, Sally Hagar, Laurie
Roberts, Joanne Mullen, and Sue Harvey. The scores were close but Cindy won the battle with a high of 96 points.

A surprise birthday party was held for Jess Haugh Friday night by his sister, Sarah.
Leslie Cokin, Doug Younise,
Tim Schaffer, Bob Miller,
Gary Carlile, Randy Guyer, Doug Luther, Mike Cote, Janet Landon, Keenie Jewel, Todd Benjamin, Steve Waterman, Marge Sheldon, and Larry Luxenberg were among the guests.

Gary Carlile has received a Congressional appointment to the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis.

Last Thursday Point Loma held its annual Father-Daughter dinner in the school's cafeteria from 6 to 8 p.m. The Rockets' public relations man, Dick White, talked at the dinner which was catered by Caesar's...
The chairman of the dinner was Sue Kemp.

This year Highlights and Countesses, P.L.'s two service clubs, will head for Cuyamaca for their annual camping trip. The girls and their guests will leave Feb. 15 and return the following day.
Teachers will act as chaperones on the trip.

Ka Anoi, Coquettes, and OTP have all chosen new officers and new members. Ka Anoi's new president is Bonnie Giddings, with Candy Blackford serving as vice president. The new members of the club are Darlene Maughn, Susie Bearn and Cathy Willingham... Co-quettes' new president is Diane Rossell, with Melodie Holmes acting as vice president, Janet Mc Phi, Sarah Haugh, Martha Phalen, and Barbara Shipley are the newly chosen members... The new president of OTP is Vicky Baker and vice president is Shelley Sack. Thursday the club is having a rush after which they will decide on new members... All three clubs met at Mr. B's Friday for an early morning breakfast.

Elections were held at Point Loma three weeks ago, and FRIEB, P.L.'s "political" club came away with four of the offices it had candidates competing for. Winning for FRIEB was Grady Reeves, for commissioner of general affairs; Nan Root, who is a member of Pointer staff, for girls' athletics; Scott
Miller, the head of Student

Awareness on the PL campus, for rallies and Assemblies; and Gary Heppell, the editor of the POINTER, for commissioner of publications.
... Other winners were Sue Maas, girls' activities, Harvey
Goldhammer, finance, Jill Buckingham, elections and eligibilities, Tom Craig, boys' activities, and Mike Cote, interscholastic athletics.

Teri Fredman and Katie Lazar attended the National Symphony of Mexico recently. Afterwards they met the conductor, Senor Herrera de la Funte. It was an exciting experience for both girls... Teri, Katie, and Susie Saunders also attended the Ballet Folklórico, a national Mexican group that performs the dances of Mexico and the past ruling civ-ilizations. The costuming was grand, and all three girls pronounced it excellent.

MADCAP's father/daughter dinner was Friday night at the Chart House.
Debbie Sikes, Jane Reeves, Nancy Menke, Martha Phalen,
and Patty Moran all attended with their fathers. After dinner, the couples attended the Rockets game at the Sports Arena.

Acceptances start arriving now for the seniors planning on a college career. Kim Hill was accepted by USC, and Scott Chambers was accepted at UCSD. Tyler Cramer also was accepted by UCSD.
Congratulations!

PL would like to welcome
Wendy Utz, cousin of Bobbie and Sue Thompson, to PL. She's from Matuchan,
New Jersey, and is now a sophomore.

A final note from Nancy Stevenson: to all my faithful readers, those who have stuck with me for the past four and a half months, I'd like to express my thanks. I have graduated from PL, to go on to better things, and I won't be writing this column anymore.

I'll not only miss the late Sunday nights, seeing my name in print, spending two hours on the phone to gather the information, writing with Gloria, but also not being able to bring the little tidbits of news at Point Loma High to my readers. I will be back to help on the final column of the year, so until then, good-bye and thanks!

Child care costs qualify as deductible expense

Working mothers may take a tax deduction for a portion of the expense of caring for their children.

Child care costs may qualify for a deduction if they permit the taxpayer to be gainfully employed or to actively seek gainful employment. Children under 13 years of age are covered by this provision as well as someone who is physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself regardless of age.

Fathers are also eligible to deduct child care costs if they are widowed, divorced, or legally separated. The deduction may also be taken by a man whose wife is incapacitated or institutionalized.

The child care deduction is limited to what is actually spent and may not exceed $600 if there is just one dependent. Up to $900 may be deducted if two or more dependents are involved.

Requirements which must be met to claim this deduction are:

1. Married women must file a joint return with their husbands and reduce the deduction by the amount that their combined adjusted gross income exceeds $6,000. (This rule does not apply, however, if the husband is incapable of self-support due to mental or physical cause.)

2. Deductions are not allowed for the care of anyone whom the taxpayer is not entitled to claim as a dependent.

Three get promotions at bank

Three San Diego Trust & Savings Bank officers have received promotions.

Robert W. Bingham moves from branch operations officer to electronic data processing centralized bank services officer. Former trust operations officer Albert L. Bosquet becomes the new branch operations officer. John R. Whiteside, former manager, Master Charge card department was named assistant vice president and manager of that department.

Bingham, of 3819 Narragansett St., Point Loma, who joined the bank in 1956 as a teller became head bookkeeper and operations officer, came to San Diego Trust in 1967 and was promoted to trust operations officer in his first year.

Bosquet, of Del Mar, who has a graduate certificate in investments from the American Institute of Banking, came to San Diego Trust in 1967 and was promoted to trust operations officer in his first year.

Whiteside, of 934 Sandpiper Pl., La Jolla, a graduate of the University of Arizona, came to San Diego Trust in 1968 from the Valley National Bank in Arizona.

Taxpayer unit gives support to bond issue

The San Diego Taxpayers Association has announced its support of a San Diego Unified School District $91.3 million five-year program bond issue to be placed before the voters on a March 11 special election.

Paul Leyton, association president, said the support is based on an analysis of past and projected enrollment trends which he said, dictated the need for the construction of new schools, site acquisitions, building remodeling, and the acquisition of additional and replacement equipment.

Corpsman gets new rating

Chief Hospital Corpsman Kenneth W. Wedemeyer, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wedemeyer of Kailua, Oahu, Hawaii, and husband of the former Miss Letta V. Hodges of 2724 Larkin Pl., Kearny Mesa, was advanced to his present rate while serving with Fighter Squadron 51 at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Miramar.

Before entering the service in July 1953, Wedemeyer attended Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah.

Open Forum to deal with foreign policy

The poles of American foreign policy, "Isolation and Intervention," will be discussed by Dr. Fred Warner Neal at the San Diego Open Forum Sunday evening. The program is scheduled at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the First Unitarian Church, 4190 Front St.

Dr. Neal is chairman of the International Relations Faculty and a professor at the Claremont Graduate School and University Center, Claremont. Former Washington correspondent of the Wall Street Journal he also served there as consultant on Russian affairs in the State Department.

Since 1964, Dr. Neal has been a special consultant to the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, Santa Barbara. He directed the programs for the Pacem in Terris Convocations in New York and Geneva, 1965 and 1967.

San Diego's oldest public assembly for the free discussion of ideas, the Open Forum is now conducting its 49th annual season of programs. As initiated in 1919, the audience is encouraged to question the speaker or speakers. John Ruskin Clark, minister of the First Unitarian Church, serves as moderator during the current series.

The public is invited to attend and to participate in the general discussion period.

The titmouse bird is the orchardman's friend because when fruit blossoms appear in the spring, the tiny birds know which buds contain bugs. They do not harm other buds.

Cats should be fed twice daily.

Two concerts slated at Sherwood Hall

Two groups — a flute and piano duo and a string quartet — have scheduled concerts at Sherwood Hall for Saturday and Monday under the sponsorship of the Committee for Arts and Lectures of the University of California here.

Appearing Saturday at 8:30 p.m. will be Jean-Pierre Rampal and Robert Veyron-Lacroix, the duo. Monday's performance, also at 8:30 p.m., will feature the Borodin String Quartet of Russia.

Rampal, one of the world's leading masters of his instrument, was born in Marseilles, the son of an instructor of the flute at the Conservatory. Yet, he did not decide to become a flutist until he was past 20. Planning to become a physician, he had completed three years in medical school before enrolling at the Paris Conservatoire.

When he had been there only five months, he had won the Conservatoire's First Prize. He made his debut tour in 1946, the same year he became associated with Veyron-Lacroix.

When not on tour, Rampal may be heard on the French radio more than any other instrumentalist — except perhaps Veyron-Lacroix.

Veyron-Lacroix revealed unusual musical talent at a very early age. He studied at the Conservatoire also and became proficient in a number of instruments. He chose the harpsichord first, the piano second. While still a student, he set a record by winning an unprecedented number of First Prizes. Between concerts, he is active as professor of harpsichord at the Conservatoire National Interieur de Music in Paris.

Their program will include: Sonata in A Major by Vivaldi, Fourth Concert Royal by Couperin, Sonata in C minor by J. S. Bach, Sonata "Undine" by Reinecke and Sonata (1958) by Poulenc.

The Borodin Quartet, founded in 1945 at the Tchaikovsky Conservatory, was originally called the Moscow Philharmonic Quartet. The name Borodin was bestowed upon the group by the Russian Government in 1955, honoring them with the name of Alexander Borodin, who is considered the father of Russian quartet music.

Their first rehearsal was in 1945, and since then the quartet has played more than 1,500 concerts in Russia and Eastern and Western Europe to extravagant praise of critics, who have called them "a miracle of utmost perfection" and "a most wonderful combination of musicians."

Critics also speak of "the clean profound playing filled with emotion" of the first violinist, Rostislav Dubinsky; of the "velvety, expressive tone of the group's second violinist," Yaroslav Alesandrov; of the "deeply exciting sounds similar to a rich human voice" which Dimitri Shebalin draws from his viola; and of the "noble warmth, colorful modesty and style" of the cellist, Valentin Berlinsky.

The Borodin Quartet's program will include: Quartet No. 2 in A Major by Shostakovich, Five Pieces for String Quartet, Opus 5 by Webern and Quartet in A minor, Opus 51, No. 2 by Brahms.

Reserved seating for both concerts is $3 for the general public and $1 for UCSD students.

EXTRA-TERRESTRIAL

An exhibition of the "outer space" paintings of Carol Safer, Malibu artist, is on display at the Aerospace Museum in San Diego's Balboa Park until Feb. 22. The present Hall of Science is now part of the Aerospace Museum, and it is there that the exhibit of three-dimensional "lunar landscapes" and of the earth as seen from a satellite, as well as paintings of the nebulae and galaxies, can be seen. Several of the nebulae, executed in fluorescent paints, are on exhibit in the museum's black-light theatre.

Kerner Report drama slated in Clairemont

"Why Did It Happen?", an original dramatization of the Kerner Report, will be performed Saturday, Feb. 15, at 8 p.m. at Maston Junior High School, 3799 Clairemont Dr.

Written and directed by C. Lester Franklin, this adaptation of the Report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders was commissioned and produced by the Jewish Community Center.

This performance is being sponsored by the San Diego Chapter of the California Social Workers' Organization. C.S.W.O.'s members, professionals in the field of social service, have long been concerned with the fight against white racism and the injustices suffered by those who are its victims. The audience is invited to participate in the interracial dialogue to be presented after the performance.

Tickets are $1 and will be available at the door. Phone reservations may be made by contacting Tice Elkins, 442-9671, and John Parkin 262-0881.

Two panel seminar set

The subject of a two panel seminar meeting for members of San Diego Chapter of the National Association of Accountants, at the Town and Country Hotel Wednesday at 6 p.m. is, "The Intellectual Aspects of Intangible Assets — Research and Development, Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights."

Guest panelists are Carl R. Brown, Robert P. Lowell, Dale D. Baker and Milton C. Clow.

Kinetic portion of Fayman work to be shown

The final screening of the kinetic portion of "The Photographic Art of Lynn G. Fayman" exhibition will take place Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Sherwood Hall.

The La Jolla Museum of Art's free, one-hour program will include color transparencies made by the late artist/photographer, as well as three short films concerned with the idea of abstract color in motion. Of special note is the award-winning film, "The Red Spot," which was chosen for exhibition at the International Film Festival in Cannes, France, in 1954 and appeared on the list of "Ten Best Films of 1955" at the Photographic Society of America International Cinema Competition.

Fayman's black-and-white and Flexichrome photographs will continue on view in the museum's main galleries through Feb. 23. La Jolla Museum of Art is open to the public daily except Monday, with gallery hours from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays; 12:30 to 5 p.m. weekends; as well as from 7 to 10 on Wednesday evenings.

Orchestra will perform

The Orchestra Michelangelo di Firenze, which consists of 17 members, will appear at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the University of California Gymnasium, north of Revelle College.

The Orchestra Michelangelo is being presented by the Committee for Arts and Lectures of UCSD.

The orchestra bearing the name of one of the greatest Florentines of all time, is an outgrowth of Italy's celebrated string quartet, the Societa Cameristica Italiana.

It was created with the express purpose of bringing to the orchestra of classical proportions the perfection of ensemble to be found only in a great string quartet. The backbone of the Orchestra Michelangelo is its part string quartet with violinists Enzo Porta and Umberto Olivetti, violist Emilio Poggioni and violoncellist Italo Gomez.

The 17 members of the orchestra were drawn from the most gifted musicians of central Italy. They share the same basic ideal of attaining a unity requiring both the highest professional skills and a singleness of purpose engendered by deep mutual respect.

The program will include: Sinfonia in C Major by Pugnani, Concerto in F Major by Vivaldi, La Musica Notturna della Strada di Madrid by Boccherini, Concerto in F Major by Haydn, Sinfonia in D Major by Dittersdorf and Couvenir de Florence, Opus 70 by Tchaikovsky.

Unreserved seating is $2 for the general public and $1 for UCSD students.

What are some of the things you should remember to do when moving?

Be sure to get all the necessary keys. It's surprising how many people forget this!

Arrange to have the lights, gas and water turned on. Be sure the utility companies know there's been a change of ownership.

Have your telephone connected. You might want to arrange a housewarming party!

Notify the postoffice of your new address. Arrange for all needed deliveries, such as milk, newspapers, etc.

Finally take a long, slow drive around your new neighborhood. In this way you

4 'cocktails'

thrown at home of La Jolla

Arsonists threw three Molotov cocktails into the bedroom of a La Jolla residence Tuesday night and caused damage in excess of $2,000.

Police said the fire occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lichty, of 2035 Torrey Pines Rd. Officers quoted Lichty as saying he was watching television at 11 p.m. when he heard the bedroom window break and discovered the blaze.

The fire caused considerable damage to the contents of the bedroom and spread smoke throughout the house. The vandals threw a fourth Molotov cocktail into the yard, damaging a fence and an inboard motorboat.

Three engine companies directed by Battalion Chief R. H. Jacobs extinguished the flames.

READERS' VIEWS

'Let's hear more of average Negro'

Editor, the Sentinel:

I have just read in your paper a story about the talk of "black power" advocates at San Diego State College.

We've heard not only a lot from them, but a lot ABOUT them. Why don't the news media ever give the view of the average Negro? The ones with intelligence and dignity for their race and community? Despite what the radicals say, there are plenty of them.

I was raised in the South, lived there for 17 years; I'm very aware of the Negro problems not only there but here. I agree, there must be a stop put to it, this awful treatment of them. They are no less than no better than we are. They must be allowed to live in their own culture.

OUR NEGRO COMMUNITY in San Diego is a credit to the race, and I feel ashamed of our town for not showing "our" Negro community how grateful we are for their handling of the racial issue. Sure, this is no Los Angeles, but decay in any tooth is still decay, large or small, and they have handled it with dignity, intelligence and without the destruction of life or property. They haven't rioted, marched in swarming masses, called in militants to do their dirty work, or allowed their own community to rot away.

We have more of a sium condition in Linda Vista than in Logan Heights. Do we have to wait until they get fed up enough with trying to do it right and cooperate and decide to riot, destroy and bomb before we wake up and appreciate "our" black community and help them to keep on the only road that will lead any of us anywhere? Can't the news papers cover stories about what the peaceful, non-antagonistic, non-"black power" intelligent people are doing about the race issue?

THE BLACK PEOPLE IN California — or at least in San Diego — aren't like the Negroes of the South. They are intelligent, educated, decent people who are capable and willing to work with the whites and other races to get their equal share of the blessings that God gave our great country.

I'm tired of hearing "black power" garbage. I want some educated, intelligent conversation on the subject. Why can't we have it? Do you think all your readers are race-haters or radicals?

I'm very upset at your constant one-sided view of a very large ball of fire.

Teen Challenge helps addicts

Editor, the Sentinel:

This is in response to the letter which appeared in your newspaper from a distraught mother of a drug addict.

The mother's letter revealed her understandable grief, shared by the father. Obviously these parents are in need of comfort for themselves as well as some hope for their son's future.

As you may know, there is an organization with headquarters in New York called Teen Challenge. This organization is under the leadership and guidance of David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross and the Switchblade" and other books concerning teenage drug addicts.

I WOULD LIKE THESE parents to consider getting in touch with me so that I might give them a copy of Mr. Wilkerson's book to read. Then, if they are still interested, I would put them in touch with local people who could introduce them to Teen Challenge in Los Angeles.

It is sad to acknowledge that Teen Challenge was unsuccessful in opening a local branch because of apathy on the part of civic and religious leaders in this community.

While Mr. Wilkerson himself is a minister, neither I nor the group represent any church organization or denomination.

Agnostics or people of other faiths are just as welcome in Teen Challenge as Christians.

Unlike Synanon and other organizations which talk about problems, or hospitals like the one in Kansas which tries to "cure" an addict by medical methods, this group, made up primarily of teenagers themselves, helps the young person and his family to recover completely through a healing of the whole person in love and unconditional compassion.

Bureaucrats get the blame

Editor, the Sentinel:

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin raised some thought-provoking points regarding the "deterioration of America's cities" in a recent speech. He put most of the blame on the federal government, particularly the intransigence of its career bureaucrats in their failure to respond to the unanimous pleas of our most knowledgeable experts for radical new approaches in the restoration of our urban centers.

Van Deerlin said that as one of these approaches we should, instead of relying solely on architects and engineers, add the skills of sociologists, psychologists and even politicians, who, he said, are specialists in dealing with people rather than things.

IF WHAT THE CONGRESSMAN says is true — that the deterioration of our cities is the fault of people appointed in past administrations — then I certainly agree with him that some of our present elected officials should use their skills in dealing with people to do something about those unresponsive and obstructionist federal bureaucrats who he says are mostly to blame for the deterioration of our great cities by not doing what the experts say they should.

His diagnosis of the cause of the sickness of our great cities and his prescription for its removal should save billions of tax dollars in the future administration of federal nostrums for the cure of local ailments.

Tunnel under Mount Soledad?

Editor, the Sentinel:

Why don't the city planners stop the absurd one-way street traffic plan for Pacific Beach, particularly on Jewell Street?

Where will this traffic go when it reaches the main arteries in Pacific Beach?

There is one solution. I believe sooner or later they will come to this: Widen Ingraham bridge, widen Ingraham Street, simply tunnel under Mount Soledad. Then you will have fast traffic to the northern areas.

La Jolla heads 'Ducks' group

E. Seth Brown, 770 Roseland Pl., La Jolla, has been named chairman of the 1969 San Diego Ducks Unlimited (DU) steering committee. He succeeds Tom Clotfelter of Rancho Santa Fe, who headed the local organization the last two years.

Clotfelter said a check for $15,000, a record sum raised at the 25th annual San Diego DU party last Oct. 10, has been sent to national DU headquarters in Chicago as the final payment on the locally sponsored Lake Cartwright in Alberta, Canada. The new "duck factory" honors the memory of the late chief naturalist of DU, Bert W. Cartwright, a frequent visitor to San Diego. The waterfowl project is the fifth of its type backed by the local DU group. Others include Harley Knox Lake, Lake San Diego, Lake Elser and Roy Mason Lake.

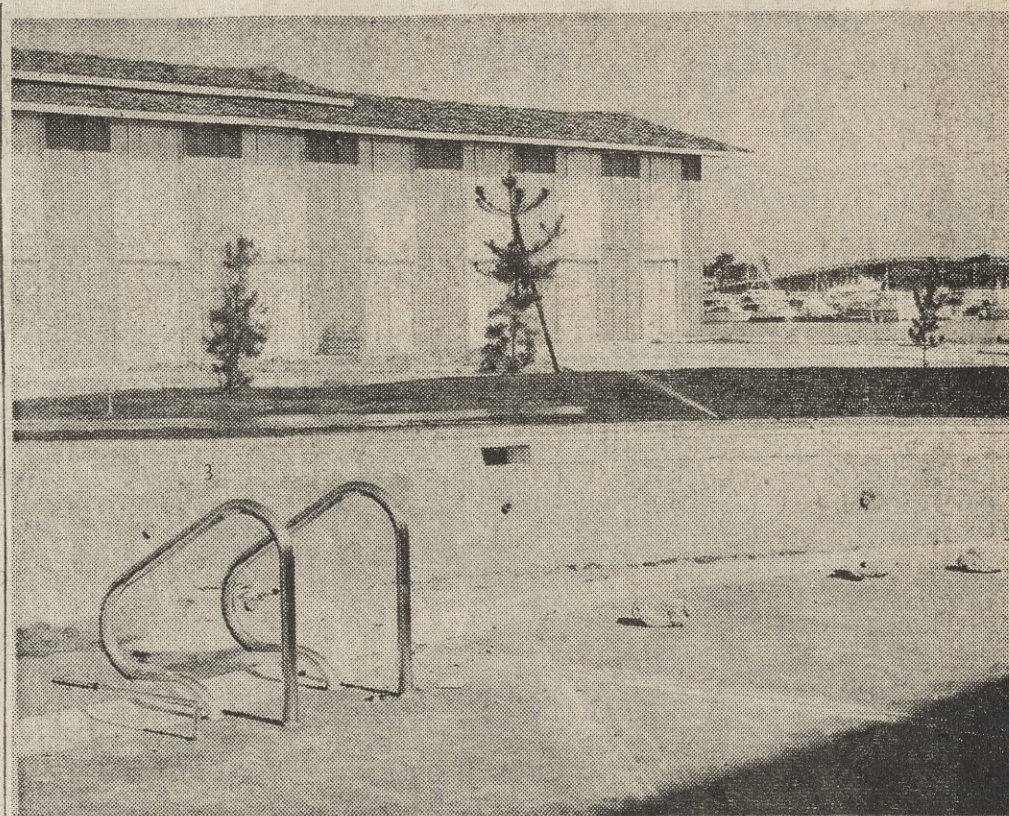

La Jolla man takes 14-week leader course

U. S. Air Force Captain and Mrs. H. Mark Young, 2643 Hidden Valley Rd., La Jolla, is attending the Air University's Squadron Officer School at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

He will receive 14 weeks of instruction in communicative skills, leadership, international relations, duties and responsibilities that prepare junior officers for command-staff duties.

The captain was commissioned in 1962 through Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex. A 1957 graduate of John Marshall High School, Los Angeles, he received his A.B. degree in political science in 1961 from Occidental College there.

Four thousand years ago Babylonians tried prohibition by restricting beverages served by taverns.

WAITING TO OPEN
If only they'd build that coffee shop.

Coffee shop delays opening at Dana Inn

Rains, a shortage of labor, and an un-built coffee shop have caused problems for the new Dana Inn in Mission Bay, but project backers are still hoping to open by late May or early June.

Frank Weber, executive manager of the Dana Marina Inc., owners of the inn, said a coffee shop at the inn must be built before the operation may start. He said the inn has received hundreds of requests for reservations already but that no arrangements have been made with anyone.

Weber said the Dana Marina Inc. will hire management to run the hotel and a "national chain" operator will be chosen to run the coffee shop. He said the coffee shop is delayed by waiting for the approval of shop plans by the national chain.

New selection at LJ gallery

Once a year the La Jolla Art Association presents an exhibit by the membership of oil paintings, watercolors and sculpture. In addition to the large paintings there will be a new selection of small paintings in the fourth gallery.

The show is now running through Feb. 15. The gallery is located at 7917 Girard Ave., and is open from 1 to 5 p.m., including Sunday.

The public has been invited to a reception and tea at the gallery next Sunday from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

IN 'BATTLE OF BANDS'

Rocking to victory

"The Originals," a four-piece rock band comprised of University City and Clairemont students, won the San Diego County "Battle of the Bands" sponsored Sunday by the Apex Music Co. in the Clairemont Quad.

Bob Barron, manager-partner of the music firm, awarded the winners a $250 gift certificate and a handsome trophy.

"The Originals" topped groups from San Diego, Chula Vista, Lemon Grove and Coronado.

The leader of the victorious quartet is Jeff Eldridge, a junior at Clairemont High School who sings and plays the lead guitar. His brother, Marty, a ninth grader at Marston Junior High, plays the drums and sings.

Other members are Ed Shafrenske, saxophone and guitar, a junior at University High, and Dick Sutton, bass, a junior at Clairemont High. Jeff and Marty live at 5018 Northaven Ave. with their mother, Mrs. Libby Eldridge, who is entertainment editor of the Sentinel.

Shafrenske is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shafrenske, 2746 Fairfield Ave. Sutton's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sutton, 2212 August Court.

The youths organized their band in 1964 when they were attending the School of the Madeleine in South Clairemont. They have performed at numerous youth dances and at the USO, Mission Valley Tennis Club and La Costa Country Club. Currently they are playing for dances at local naval bases and private parties.

Second place on Sunday went to "The Waite" and "The Twelfth Street Underground" finished third.

WILDING'S WANDERINGS

Land of Shakespeare is rich in history and relics of past

(This is the fourth in a series of periodic reports from England written by the wife of a Pacific Beach professor who is spending his sabbatical year there.)

By MARY WILDING

The best way to appreciate our glorious San Diego sunshine is to be denied it. We have been rained on, snowed on, hailed on and fogged on, but when the sun breaks through everyone sits up and takes notice.

We took advantage of some clear but cold weather to visit a part of England northwest of London. In the town of Windsor is a handsome castle, the largest in England, which was begun by William the Conqueror in the 11th century and which has always been one of the favorite residences of reigning monarchs.

IT IS SITUATED HIGH ON a hill in the center of town and commands an impressive view of a green valley and the River Thames below. Townspeople take its presence for granted and go casually about their business, while tourists stand enraptured by its splendor and take frantic snapshots. The first snow flurries of the season fell from the sky at Windsor Castle, and our little ones went into a gay spontaneous dance of greeting.

Next stop—Oxford. There is no building housing "Oxford University" per se—the whole town seems to be the heart of it. About 40 colleges go into the University's makeup (average attendance around 100), each having its own buildings laid out in a quadrangle around a green. Each has also its own handsomely ornate chapel.

RADCLIFFE CAMERA IS a large circular building which dominates the center of the University scene and is the common library. Just next to it is St. Mary the Virgin Church with a very tall steeple which we climbed to give us a postcard view of all the small colleges. Students wear caps and gowns trimmed with ermine (some a little threadbare) on the streets as well as in class.

We stepped through a gate leading into the campus of Brasenose College, wandered around and then, much to our dismay, discovered that we had been locked in. After about 10 minutes of frantic searching through gardens, into dark corridors, study halls, etc., someone finally came along to show us a back way out—but not before our youngest girl in dire emergency, used the facilities of the men's dormitory, a bit of England unseen up to then by tourists.

WE ARRIVED THE NEXT day at Stratford Upon Avon and found a most delightful town. Much 16th century architecture has been preserved, and evidences of Shakespeare are everywhere. On the city green is a group of statues with the Bard in the center, surrounded by characters he immortalized—Lady Macbeth, King Lear, Prince Hal and Falstaff, beautifully done and easily recognizable.

Just beyond the park is a very large modern theatre where we saw a magnificent production of "Much Ado About Nothing." His birthplace is a half-timbered house, long, with low ceilings. The church where he is buried is most attractively situated on a bend of the River Avon with overhanging trees and many splendid swans and geese in the water.

HIS GRAVE MARKER bears the famous inscription, "Blest be he who spares these stones, And cursed be he who moves my bones." Dramatic to the end... A little way out of town is the home of Ann Hathaway, Shakespeare's wife. It is a large, thatched roof cottage in excellent state of preservation, having been occupied by the Hathaway family until the 1920's.

It has many interesting relics of times past. Large overshoes which were strapped on to protect the farmer's feet from mud; a "mantrap," iron jaws which caught many a poacher's leg (perhaps even Shakespeare's), and huge leather bags which held a day's supply of beer. Although we missed the profusion of flowers which bloom in the gardens in the summer, we also missed the lines of tourists, 2,000 strong a day, who file quickly in and out.

BACK IN TOWN WE INadvertently wandered through the side door of an old church into a garden smack in the middle of the school that Shakespeare had attended. It is still in use, and hundreds of boys' heads stared out of the windows at us. As we stared back, the headmaster came on the run and we were given a polite but firm heave-ho out onto the street. The family gigglers thought this was the highlight of our visit to Stratford.

There was much more to come—Kenilworth Castle, now a sleeping ruin dreaming of its 800 year old history, John of Gaunt, seige and famine, lavish entertaining of Elizabeth I, and Warwick Castle, the residence of the present Earl of Warwick and his family, with its great banqueting hall, fine collection of Old Masters and an armor room, its piece de resistance being a long lance with a tiny antique pistol attached to the point—determined to get you one way or another.

AND THEN... COVENTRY; What an experience. Early in World War II its great 14th century Gothic cathedral was reduced by Nazi fire bombs to a mere shell. Instead of rebuilding in the same style of architecture, the builders preserved the remains as a reminder to all of the horrors of war. It is still used as a place of worship, especially for Easter sunrise services.

Through a door in the scarred rear wall is a Center for reading, rest and refreshments built and staffed by the German people. Next to the Gothic ruins, but connected to it, is the most impressive modern cathedral I have ever seen. They stand together in harmony and unity, one complementing the other, a symbol of the old and the new, a symbol of triumph of hope and love and forgiveness over hate and destruction. The new cathedral rises light and ablaze with stained glass, and original inspired appointments. I have no superlatives left to describe this architectural and artistic triumph. It is a tribute to the designers, artisans, workmen and visionaries of Coventry. It is more than a cathedral. It is a prayer.

HEADING HOME WE stopped at the town of Banbury of nursery rhyme fame. In vain we waited under Banbury Cross to see a fine lady upon a white horse, so we settled for Banbury cakes, a local mince-cake pastry famous for hundreds of years.

The other night we watched the inauguration of President Nixon live by satellite. It was very moving. Naturally I cried, and Paddy hit her brother because he wouldn't put his sandwich down to stand for the Star Spangled Banner. My resolution for the new year is to bring more peace into my small sphere of influence. Perhaps if we all tried, it would make it easier for our new President to bring more peace into his!

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Pacific air routes: Nixon played politics

By DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON

Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — With some of the slickest lobbying in the history of back-stage politics, Pan American Airways not only persuaded President Nixon to cancel the new air routes across the Pacific but conveyed the impression that he was overruling a political decision by his predecessor.

Exactly the opposite was true. Former President Johnson scrupulously refused to play politics in awarding the trans-Pacific routes, Jack Anderson whereas Nixon's decision was dictated entirely by politics.

Here is the amazing story, carefully documented, of the profits and politics behind the trans-Pacific case:

For more than a decade the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) has sought to provide more competition and better service for air travelers in the Pacific. This has been bitterly resisted by Pan Am, which doesn't want to share its lucrative Pacific business with more competitors. A trans-Pacific air route, it's estimated, is worth $50 million a year.

THE CAB EVENTUALLY submitted its trans-Pacific recommendations to former President Eisenhower who, on the eve of his retirement, rejected them outright and instructed the CAB to review the entire matter. This decision already has given Pan Am eight more years of limited competition, worth millions to the stockholders.

After exhaustive hearings the CAB came back to the White House with new recommendations—this time on the eve of President Johnson's retirement. Pan Am's president Najeeb Halaby, LBJ's former federal aviation administrator, immediately began camping in the White House basement.

Day after day he slipped into the White House through the basement door to lobby with presidential aides. He urged them to hand down a decision keeping rival airlines out of the Pacific or, alternatively, to buck the decision to the Nixon administration.

HALABY ALSO MADE repeated calls on top officials of the State Defense and Transportation Departments to enlist their support. Two of the most influential lawyers in Washington, Tommy (the Cork) Corcoran and James Rowe, also were retained by Pan Am to pull strings inside the Johnson administration.

When LBJ decided against Pan Am, the airline began spreading stories that he had jimmied the CAB recommendations for political purposes. This was pure hogwash.

Johnson was closer to American Airlines than to any other carrier. His close friend and Secretary of Commerce, C. R. Smith, was the former president of the airline. Another intimate friend and former aide, Warren Woodward, is a vice president. Two other members of Johnson's inner circle, Horace Busby and Jake Jacobsen, also are on American's payroll.

YET LBJ OVERRULED A CAB recommendation that American fly to Japan via Hawaii. He acted on the unanimous, non-political advice of Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford and Secretary of Transportation Alan Boyd that the recommended route would upset delicate relations with Japan, because Japan Air Lines, already in shaky financial condition, couldn't stand the competition.

Another airline with connections inside the Johnson administration was Eastern, which also wanted a trans-Pacific route. Eastern's Washington representative, Craig Raupe, had raised campaign funds for Hubert Humphrey and worked hard to try to elect him President.

In gratitude, Humphrey personally intervened at the White House to seek a route for Eastern. But President Johnson refused to be swayed. He completely ignored personal and political pressures in making his final decision.

RATHER THAN DEFER the decision to his successor, he thought he was doing Nixon a favor by deciding the trans-Pacific case and diverting the fire from the new President.

However, Johnson underestimated the political power of Pan Am, whose top brass had contributed heavily to the Nixon campaign. Even before Nixon was settled in the White House Pan Am brought pressure on him to reverse Johnson's decision.

From another quarter, New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller also urged Nixon to overrule Johnson. It is worth mentioning that Rockefeller's brother, Laurance, is the largest single stockholder in Eastern Airlines.

THUS NIXON, IN HIS first major presidential decision, submitted to political pressure and threw out the CAB-recommended trans-Pacific routes — a disturbing omen of things to come.

NOTE: Nixon explained that he acted in response to letters from the chairmen of the Senate and House Foreign Relations Committees. The truth is that the letters were strictly routine requests for a review of the case, the sort of letters that members of Congress write every day to placate constituents and contributors.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman William Fulbright, for example, was appalled when he learned the President had cited his innocuous letter as a reason for canceling the air routes. So many airline representatives thronged into his office later that he left town to escape them.

"I wish I had never heard of this case," he told subordinates.

Hardison's Spanish

By JAMES M. HARDISON

What were some of the early Spanish institutions of governmental agencies and policies that influenced the colonial period of California?

The Spanish kings carried out the conquest of America, and particularly California, by offering contracts or appointments to private individuals. The "conquistador" spearheaded the Spanish conquest. He was a military commander given wide powers to explore, conquer and govern new territories and their inhabitants.

Later, "adelantados" were given similar powers as those of the "conquistador" but in addition were given authority to colonize and develop the territories.

Under the "encomienda" system, the "encomendero" was given powers to exploit the labor of the natives residing on land holdings given to him by the king. We are perhaps more familiar with the "mission" as one of the chief agencies for the extension of Spanish influence in California. The "presidio" (military post) and the "pueblo" (town) became important institutions which supported the mission system and helped it to become the most popular during the colonial period.

Wilson named chairman of committee

Assemblyman Pete Wilson has been named chairman of the Assembly's Committee on Urban Affairs and Housing.

Wilson, a Republican, was the only San Diego assemblyman named to a chairmanship by Speaker Bob Monagan.

Wilson, elected to his second term last November, serves the 78th District. He was the Republican whip during the last session of the assembly.

Monagan called Wilson's post "one of the most difficult assignments in the legislature."

"It will encompass virtually all our basic social and economic problems," he said. "It will require great flexibility, energy and imagination."

Komets klip Hawks, shoot for playoffs

Strong hits 40 points to sink Hawks

By RICHARD YEAGER
Sentinel Prep Writer

The Kearns road a Komet out of sight, Tuesday, and knocked the Madisons from the unbeaten ranks. The Komets came on strong with Wilburn to out last the Warhawks 83-80 in a scorching Madison still rides on top in Western League cage competition but if the Komets get a little lucky and if somebody else shades the Hawks, Kearns could kop a piece of the league crown. The Hawks and Komets do not meet again in league play.

Madison shot a 23-14 lead in the first quarter but Kearns came back with some outside shooting in the second period to shave the Hawks lead to 42-40 at the buzzer.

The second half was a battle to the end. Madison down by five with less than a minute to play, rallied to make it 81-78 with :35 seconds to go but Wilburn Strong decided the issue with a bucket at the two second mark and Kearns won it, 83-80. Strong tallied 40 points in the contest, raising his county lead to just under 700 points on the season.

"Strong played a great game," said Komet Coach Wayne Colburne. "The whole team put a big effort into their play." After scoring 40 points in 32 minutes of play, Colburne's comment sounds like an understatement.

Lee Tyler added the Komets with 17 points. Steve Scott and Bruce Sauer had 10 each as four Komets hit in twin figures.

Phil Edwards led the Warhawks scoring with 22 points. Bob Brady tallied 21, Mark Burbach had 11 and Mike Cohen netted 10 to give the Hawks four player in double marks.

Uni fight on, hopes for berth in playoffs

By RON DOUGALL
Sentinel Prep Writer

University High, fighting for a berth in the CIF post season playoffs, all but eliminated Point Loma from the same honor, Tuesday, with an overwhelming 68-45 trouncing.

The Dons poured it on in the first half, utilizing a stiff defense with red-hot shooting. The Dons led at the end of two periods 40-11.

University let down a night in the second half when the Pointers came up with a full-court press. Steve Babick and Ken Brush overcame that tactic with some timely shooting and the Unis were never in trouble. Babick potted 14 for the Dons, Brush hit for 12. Larry Leonard and Don McCormick sparked the play in the early going with Leonard ending up with 11 points and McCormick hitting for 10.

Point Loma's Rick Gerdling had the game high with 18 points in a gallant effort. Scott Brendes hit for 11.

Chiefs-Bucs look good for next season

By JEFF HORVITZ
Sentinel Prep Writer

Clairemont, and Mission Bay might be out of this year's Western League cage race, but if things continue to go the way they have, both teams could be making a lot of noise next season.

Both squads showed their stuff Tuesday at Clairemont gym in a nip-and-tuck contest with the Chieftains coming out on top of a 63-51 slate. The Buccaneers got their entire team into the action and Clairemont used all but who are slowed with minor injuries.

The first half was played on near even terms. The Chiefs then came up with third quarter burst to grab a 43-35 lead before pulling out the 12 point victory.

Bob Rynes potted 14 points to lead the scoring for the winners. Junior Randy Larsen assisted with a dozen, all in the second half.

Mission Bay got a game high performance from Fred Pagani, who hit for 15. Jimmy Williams canned 10 for the Bucs.

Clairemont travels to University tomorrow, La Jolla visits the Buccaneers in league competition.

Woolf on tap prep

Prospective candidates for the next major stake of the 1969 season, the historic George Woolf Handicap, get a final opportunity to earn a spot on the invitational list when they meet in a one-mile feature at Caliente next Sunday.

They'll participate in the Madera Handicap, and undoubtedly all those who turn in a solid effort will rate strong consideration for the $5000 added George Woolf which comes up for decision a week later.

H. E. "Buck" Hopkins, racing secretary, doesn't anticipate too much trouble putting together a solid field for the Madera, and among those who figure to seek weight assignments are Foreignmer, Javason, Tenth Legion, Tempest Tempo, Ell Prince, Tail Bone, American Colors, Ain't Nuthin', Bold Eagle, Canasta, Eager King Joaquin and Speedy Spud.

Campanella to be Padres' dinner guest

Roy Campanella, enshrined this year in the Baseball Hall of Fame, will be a guest of honor at the April 7 dinner honoring the San Diego Padres on the eve of major league baseball's debut in San Diego.

The former Brooklyn Dodger catcher, his brilliant career cut short by a traffic accident in 1958, is a three-time winner of the National League's most-valuable-player award.

Campanella was voted into the Hall of Fame along with Stan Musial by the Baseball Writers' Association of America, sponsor of the first annual dinner in cooperation with the San Diego Hot Stove League.

The dinner, in the International Room of El Cortez Hotel, will mark the first public appearance in San Diego of many Padres. All the Padres, including manager Preston Gomez, will be introduced.

Officials and stars of the Houston Astros, the Padres' opening night foe April 8, will also be special guests.

The Baseball Writers' dinner, traditional events in other major league cities, also will feature Hollywood entertainment.

Group or individual ticket reservations, at $20 each, can be made with Bob Williams or Rick Smith at 234-7111, or by writing Post Office Box 297, San Diego 92112.

SPORTS SHORTS

By JOHN E. WIRGES
Sentinel Sports Editor

FOOTBALL—Former San Diego State aide John Madden takes the reins of the Oakland Raiders after two seasons as John Rauch's line-backer coach. Rauch moved on to Buffalo and Madden, at 33, becomes the youngest coach in the pro game. He'll also be one of the toughest. He fashioned San Diego State's defensive unit that brought national honors, serving on Don Coryell's crew from 1964 through 1966. Madden believes that stopping the other guy means winning and helped put the Raiders into the Super Bowl with his stalwart linebackers. If you believe the Raiders were tough last year, look for more of the same in the up-coming season.

BASEBALL—Baseball moguls have done it again, coming up with an unknown to front for the many headed organization. The big difference in the appointment of Bowie Kuhn as Baseball Commissioner over the former diamond chief, retired Air Force General William Eckert, is the new man's knowledge of the game and his associations within the game. Kuhn, a lawyer by trade, has been in the game some 20 years and represented the National League in its litigation with Milwaukee when the Braves moved to Atlanta. Baseball seems to have a man who knows the game, and who knows, he might even know the score. Baseball needs help and the new Commissioner, an experienced, knowledgeable young 42-year-old, could be the catalyst to rejuvenate the grand old national pastime.

BASKETBALL—The San Diego Rockets return to action tomorrow night at the Sports Arena meeting John Kerr and the Phoenix Suns. The Rockets are giving every indication they mean to be in the post season playoffs and now the schedule swings in their favor. McMahon's mercenaries take off on their last tough road trip on Saturday with stops scheduled at Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Los Angeles. They play that orgy in seven days. Then the Rockets have things going their way. A three game, six day trip later in the month and nine of 13 at home in March. All March away games are in the West, a pair each at Seattle and Phoenix. McMahon's marching merri-men could make it this year, not a bad ending for a second year club.

HOCKEY—The San Diego Gulls have a wild one coming and then meet the Vancouver Canucks in a pair on Saturday. The Gulls need wins to the Western Hockey League, and like the optimist said, now is the opportunity.

Local lake anglers get large bass bite

By JEAN SCOTT

It was "spring" at Lake Murray last weekend with an unusual early show of bass action. Trout fishermen who stuck with their cheese and salmon eggs found trout were a little slower to bite, but several of the trout caught were the trophy two-pounders. Tom Blazer of San Diego passed up the cheese bait for nitescrawlers and the super worms really worked. Blazer's limit string of bass weighed in at 15½-pounds including a 5½-pounder.

GARY BURGER, 8737 Dallas St., limited out on trout at Murray with his heavy fish a 2½-pounder. Six-year-old Tim Kisielsky of San Diego fished off the float near Carroll Cove at Murray for his trout limit which also included a 2½-pound trout. Sonics, bombers and plastic worms were the bass-getters and the conventional cheese, salmon eggs and corn coaxed the trout into biting.

San Vicente's fishermen had two surprises in store for them, excellent crappie fishing and an unexpected show of white catfish. John Findeley, a Clairemont resident, used redworms to lure a two-pound, 11-ounce crappie into becoming part of the fish report. Dan Lindstrom of Lakeside landed 14 crappie, total weight 22-pounds and also added three bass for good measure.

THE SAN DIEGO PIER AT Ocean Beach had a bonito run early Friday morning. The Big Bite tackle shop on the pier reported good catches of perch, queenfish and lobster over the weekend. Anglers interested in the daily action at the free fishing pier can call 224-3861 for a recorded report of the previous day's fish catch, tide and weather information.

As the water warms, ocean fishing is expected to improve. Although there is a good show of bonito and barracuda at the kelp beds, the fish are small. For example, last week's free pass winner at Seaforth was Jack Drummond of Pacific Beach. It hasn't been verified, but one of the deck hands swears he saw Drummond with a can of sardines just prior to putting his winning fish in the sack. The winning fish was supposed to be a baby barracuda... but in soy sauce?

MIRAMAR AND MURRAY reservoirs will receive trout plant boosts prior to the open fishing days, however the amount to be planted will be determined from an inventory of the lakes to assure good weekend trout fishing.

Town Talk

By MARY FISHEL

"FOR WANT OF A NAIL . . . oops . . . this one is 'For want of a string, the violin was lost; For want of the violin, the string section was lost; For want of the string section, the orchestra was lost; And all from the want of a violin string . . .'" this is the San Diego Symphony as they begin their campaign to raise funds to keep San Diego's Symphony Orchestra alive.

The other little Mother Goose rhyme, believe it or not, read "For want of a nail, the shoe was lost; For want of the shoe, the horse was lost; For want of the horse, the rider was lost; For want of a rider, the battle was lost; For want of the battle, the kingdom was lost; And all from the want of a horse-shoe nail" . . . an unlikely story as the Symphony has asked? Perhaps not, this is a "battle of music" in San Diego, which might be lost, if the Symphony is NOT supported.

They do need money . . . in 1969 the actual sum needed to allow for planned orchestra expansion and to combat the economic spiral is $250,000. It is a fact that a culturally rich city attracts business and industry . . . and by the same token NO city can be culturally rich without a symphony orchestra.

Zoltan Rozsnyai is a talented and dedicated conductor, but he also needs help as do the fine musicians playing in the orchestra.

The young people in our city also benefit from the Symphony as they give children's concerts . . . 12 are planned for this year with the tickets only costing 60 cents . . . in addition the Symphony sponsors Young Audiences Incorporated . . . they will present in city and county schools no fewer than 375 ensemble concerts!

The Women's Committee of the San Diego Symphony has worked very hard for many years by having all sorts of special events to help make money for the Symphony, but they can't do it all.

Mrs. John McBride Thornton of Point Loma is the current president of the Women's Committee. Arthur S. Johnson is the president of the San Diego Symphony Association. Lt. Gen. Victor H. Krulak, USMC, ret., is the fund drive chairman.

Well, the big question is how can we all help? I guess the board of directors has made it simple enough. And I, for one, do not know how we can call this a "City in Motion" if we don't have a San Diego Symphony Orchestra!

Known only as "Peace Pilgrim" she has crossed the country many times, sometimes accepting rides, but mostly on foot. She sleeps under the stars and has had very unusual adventures.

Mrs. HOLLY HOLLINGSHEAD . . . of Mission Beach has recently returned from a most exciting trip to Germany, South Africa, the Canary Islands, Portugal, the Holy Land, Greece, Rome, Italy and Paris.

But of all the exciting far-away places, Mrs. Hollingshead's favorite was Salisbury, Rhodesia, South Africa and Johannesburg. They saw the famous Victoria Falls and were entertained by Prime Minister Ian Douglas Smith and his beautiful wife.

Of course Mrs. Hollingshead was interested in Jerusalem and when they visited the Dead Sea, where they could hear the guns, she remarked to one of the other tour members, it sounded like the Navy guns having target practice in San Diego.

He replied "lady that's no target practice, that is the real thing!"

SPEAKING ABOUT . . . it did hold up the Camp Fire Girls annual peanut sale somewhat (after all who wants wet peanuts?) so Mrs. Howard Harvey, associate chairman, has announced the sale dates will be extended through Feb. 9.

The annual sale is featuring a choice of Tri-Pak of three kinds of peanuts or the new corn clusters nut confection . . . and we can attest to the fact that this is a delicious concoction!

Proceeds will enhance the treasuries of the groups selling, add to the Camp Fire Building Fund as well as supplement the council operating budget.

The goal of the Peanut Sale is 110,000 units.

La Jolla Woman's Club will present a program on "Musical Moments" at the meeting at 2 p.m. in the clubhouse at Silverado at Draper.

Don Small, director and pianist, Emma Small, soprano and Beverly Green, Mezzo soprano, will conduct a program of duets and solos including a set of Moravian duets by Dvorak.

Miss Helen Street West will introduce the artists. Pouring at the tea tables will be Mmes. George H. Ruth, Henrietta Stowell, Alice West Marker and J. J. Tisdall.

JUST WED—Linda Marie Kopacz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Kopacz of Clairemont, was married Saturday at the Clairemont Church of God to Warren C. Scott of NAS Miramar. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chouinard of Beverly, Massachusetts.

Scott-Kopacz say vows in Clairemont

Linda Marie Kopacz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Kopacz of Clairemont, became the bride of Warren C. Scott of Naval Air Station Miramar, in a ceremony Saturday in the Clairemont Church of God.

Mr. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chouinard of Beverly, Mass.

The bride wore a gown of white lace over satin made by her mother. The crown was fashioned of matching lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with pink tips.

Sharon Kopacz, sister of Linda Marie, was the maid of honor. Deanne Blanck was bridesmaid.

The attendants wore street length dresses of deep pink satin and lace. Their nose-gays were of pink carnations.

Best man was Steve Laas and ushers were Michael Wells and Bruce Meyers. A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. Scott was graduated from Madison High School. Her fiancé attended school in Beverly, Mass. He is currently serving with the Navy.

The couple is residing in Clairemont.

The Nocturnes, an evening group of the Pacific Beach Womens Club, was treated to an "Adventure in Sound" by an employee of Pacific Telephone at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the clubhouse on Soledad Road.

John Cain, a member of the phone company's lecture demonstration team, conducted an oral and musical tour of the development of sound.

He traced sound from the first music produced on an Edison cylinder to the latest stereophonically recorded music. He also explained the difference between high fidelity and stereophonic reproduction.

La Jolla High School alumni of the class of 1959 met recently in the home of Mrs. Pat Clements to plan for a reunion dinner-dance July 5 at the Bahia Hotel on Mission Bay.

A cocktail hour will precede the dance. Darrel Macey's band will provide the dance music.

Gifts from local merchants for donation to the attendants at the dance include a dinner for two at the Cottonpatch, dinner for two at the Chart House, a custom-made bikini from Eeni Meeni Bikinis and a surfboard donated by Gordon and Smith.

KGB radio will help set a nostalgic mood at the cocktail party with music from the alumni's high school days.

Arrangements for the evening are being handled by Mrs. Jacob Dutcher, ways and means chairman, and Mrs. Roger Lindroth, social chairman. Proceeds from the event will go toward the auxiliary's fund for scholarships for accounting students.

Alex Faulkner, Gull player and Leo Antonissi, a travel agent, both spoke at the January meeting of the auxiliary. Mrs. Joseph Pitofsky of La Jolla is president of the group.

Women see gallery film

A film entitled "The National Gallery of Art" (in Washington, D. C.) was shown for the La Jolla Woman's Club on Silverado and Draper at its regular meeting at 2 p.m. Monday.

The movie, produced by the New York Life Insurance Company, took the viewer from the oldest painting hanging in the gallery, through the great religious masterpieces, and finally into the art of modern times ending with Picasso.

Mrs. Carl S. Kleinau, program chairman, talked about the film.

Committee members serving in February will be: tea, Mrs. Edwin F. Duff, Mrs. Everett Johnson and Miss La Verne Rubin; greeters, Miss Ethel F. Lowe, Mrs. Claude Dudley, Mrs. Frank M. Krapp and Mrs. Al F. O'Donnell; flowers, Mrs. Louis P. Zinke and Mrs. C. Roe Tuttle and pouring tea, Mrs. Duncan Harkin, Mrs. Arthur D. Heffron, Mrs. John Marx and Mrs. F. A. Shisler.

Gold plated sugar bowl to be gavel

When the San Diego Historical Society Women's Committee installs its new officers Friday the conventional gavel will not be passed.

Instead, the new president will receive a gold-plated sugar bowl. The group will meet at noon in De Falco's Meeting Room in Mission Valley West.

Mrs. Edward R. Stephens, new chairman, will receive the sugar bowl from outgoing chairman Mrs. Zelma Locker of Pacific Beach. A gold-plated creamer will pass from the hands of Mrs. Robert Ferris of Point Loma to the new vice chairman Mrs. William Langley Curry of Pacific Beach.

A gold sprayed secretary's book will be given to Mrs. Ralph Arden, the new secretary. Mrs. Florence Christman of Pacific Beach will receive a gold coin purse as the new treasurer from Miss Rhoda Kruse of Pacific Beach, outgoing treasurer.

Mrs. Locker explained that the bowl came into use because she did not have a gavel.

"Instead I tapped for order on a sugar bowl borrowed from the restaurant," she said. "So, to the new chairman of the women's committee goes her own personal gold sugar bowl, and to the vice chairman, her own gold creamer to go with it. We followed the trend with the other things."

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Moss were the guests of honor at the installation. He is the new executive director of Junipero Serra Museum. He took the position Jan. 1 succeeding John S. Chambers who served as interim director for over eighteen months.

The women's committee is made up of women members of the San Diego Historical Society. No dues is charged. The group was originated in 1968.

Mrs. Penn is speaker

Mrs. Barbara Penn of Clairemont, a recruiter for the Foster Home Section of the San Diego County Welfare Department, spoke at the February meeting of the Gethsemane Lutheran Church Women's Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the church on Melbourne Drive.

"We Love, We Care" was the program theme. Mrs. Emory Erlander led the devotions.

Officers recently installed into the women's group were Mmes. Oswald Meindl, president; Bruce Zillgitt, vice president; Kermit Foss, secretary; Deland Davidson, treasurer; Erlander and Carl Scott, faith and life co-chairmen; Roland Renner, outreach and fellowship chairman, and Raymond Olsen, Christian Action chairman.

Rev. Erlander installed the women.

Charity Ball set Saturday

The Hotel del Coronado's Grand Ballroom and International Room will be the scene of the 1969 Charity Ball to be held at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Proceeds for the ball will go to the Children's Hospital and Health Center currently undergoing a major building program.

Since this is the 50th anniversary of the ball, the Grand Ballroom will be decorated in gold and will feature large gold medallions showing the seals of the Children's Hospital and Health Center and the city's 200th Anniversary. The history of past charity balls will also be shown.

Mrs. Edward P. Scott Jr., of Point Loma is chairman of decorations. The second setting for the ball, the International Room, will feature a "Pink Garter" cabaret theme. Red candles, red and white checked table cloths and a player piano will add to the cabaret atmosphere. Mrs. Roger W. Estey and Mrs. David W. Estey are chairmen of the International Room.

Mrs. Ross H. Pyle of Pacific Beach, program editor, said each person attending the ball will receive a souvenir program. The program this year will be a photographic essay of the progress of San Diego during the last 50 years.

The first Charity Ball was held Nov. 30, 1909 in the Robinson Hotel. It was not moved to the Hotel del Coronado until 1914. The first ball took in funds not only by the sale of tickets, but also by the sale of votes for the "belle" and "beau" of the ball. Dances with the winners of the voting were auctioned off to add to the ball's profits.

Because there were several years when the ball was not held, this is only the 50th anniversary of the ball.

INSPIRATION FOR TODAY

By Robert E. Whitworth

Decisions are part of the privilege of living. We must do things every day, we must decide things mentally and physically. However, we should be sure that in doing so, the decision will not hurt anyone else at any time.

Contacting a certain TV station, KOG, helps in right decision making. KOG — Kingdom of God. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his right way of living and all things shall happen unto you."

The Kingdom is within ourselves. But first we must seek it. Having found it, we contact it daily by prayers, affirmations, and meditation. Then we touch the button which guides us into making right decisions.

To be in tune with the wavelength of God is the master secret of happiness.

THE BOSS

"The boss!" Jim said and laughed to see Jimmy dwarfed by his chair. And I began to wonder, When our son is ready to occupy that chair, what kind of a man will he be? Will he have integrity and a sense of responsibility for his employees? Or will he cut corners, use the people he works for—who work for him?

So much depends on us. Right now, he learns of love and kindness from our voices, our hands. As he matures, our values, respect for others and concern will help to shape his attitudes.

How glad I am that our Church offers a program of Christian education for Jim and me, as well as for Jimmy. As our son grows, so will we.

The strength you need to meet the responsibilities of your life can be found in your church.

Ski Scene

By ROY RODRIGUEZ
Ski Editor

Northern California ski resorts began digging out this week after a two weeks snow storm. Mono County's two popular ski resorts, June Mountain and Mammoth Mountain, were snowed in for nine days.

June Mountain received three to six feet of new snow, ensuring skiing well into spring. Mammoth Mountain received eight to twelve feet of fresh powder. This, coupled with an eight foot base, will ensure skiers of celebrating the Fourth of July on Mammoth slopes.

Contrary to the word going around, Mammoth Mountain has seen much deeper snows than what they now have on the ground. Only the year before last the snow measured approximately two feet deep.

Road crews have been working hard this past week clearing the road from Highway 395 up to the ski area. The parking lot, surprisingly enough, is in excellent shape. The Village snow removal equipment and local help are busy clearing parking lots and driveways to motels, hotels, and cabins for this coming weekend.

The blizzard that hit Mammoth not only brought snow with it, it also brought destruction. The Mammoth Elementary School building burned down due to gas leaks caused from winds and heavy snows. Fortunately, the school had been closed due to inclement weather.

Over 10 trailers from one of Mammoth's trailer parks exploded and burned due to gas leaks. A few cabins were damaged by caving roofs due to the heavy snow fall. Property damage was extensive, but fortunately no lives were lost.

Because of the severe snow storm, the Winter Carnival scheduled for Jan. 25 to Feb. 2 was postponed until a later date. I will inform you on the new dates as soon as I am advised.

On the brighter side, Mammoth Mountain officials report that all facilities will be in full operation this coming week. Temperatures have been in the low twenties, assuring skiers of plenty of deep, deep powder. So flatlanders, let's pack our ski buggies and head North! Skiing is great!

SNOW REPORT
San Gabriel, San Bernardino Mountains
Snow Summit: 8-14 inches of new snow over one to two foot base.

Snow Valley: 8-10 inches of new snow over a 4-18 inch base.

Holiday Hill: 18 inches on upper slopes; 10-18 inches at mid-station; 14-18 inches on lower snow making areas. Operating daily.

HIGH SIERRAS
Mammoth Mountain: 10-12 feet of fresh powder over a 6-12 foot base. Skiing excellent. All facilities in full operation.

June Mountains: 8-11 feet of new powder over a 7-9 foot base. Skiing reported to be excellent. All facilities in full operation. 24 hour snow report number (213) 287-9711.

Squaw Valley: Reports a total of 23 feet of snow on Squaw Peak and nine feet of packed powder on Valley floor. Skiing reported excellent.

Heavenly Valley: 16-20 inches of new snow over an 11 foot base on California side, and 12-16 inches of new powder on 129 inches base on Nevada side. Skiing reported excellent.

Alpine Meadows: 20-24 feet of fresh powder. Deep powder skiing reported.

Badger Pass: 159 inches of snow. Skiing reported excellent. Chains are advisable.
